Bank Securities Report

GSIB balance sheets expand

US banking sector assets grew $1.7tn in Q1 26, driven by expansion in securities and reverse repo at the GSIBs followed by loan growth at small banks, and funded largely by deposits and repo on the liabilities side. Banks added $470bn in securities, of which about $170bn was in USTs.

- US bank balance-sheet growth re-accelerated in Q1 26, marking a clear step-up from the more modest pace of late 2025, driven primarily by renewed expansion at the GSIBs alongside continued growth at the small banks.
- The GSIBs accounted for the bulk of the expansion, likely reflecting eSLR relief, particularly through securities additions and reverse repo activity. Small banks continued to drive loan growth, especially in real estate lending.
- Securities rose $470bn q/q, including $172bn in USTs and a large part of GSIBs' trading books, while asset expansion was funded primarily through deposits and repo, pointing to an increase in intermediation capacity and likely reflecting banks' early adoption of the modified SLR rules.
- Expanded GSIB balance-sheet capacity has eased funding pressures, even at lower reserve levels, and, together with improved intermediation and balance sheet capacity, reinforces our preference for belly swap spreads (see here).

In Q1 26, US banking sector assets expanded meaningfully, with total assets up $1.66trn q/q, according to aggregated Y-9C data (Figure 1). This marks a sharp pickup versus recent quarters and is well above the $138bn increase in Q4 (see our Q4 report here), as well as Q1 25 when assets expanded by about $1trn. The acceleration was driven primarily by GSIBs, likely reflecting early adoption of the modified SLR rule, alongside continued solid expansion at small banks. Growth was broad-based across assets: securities portfolios, loan books, reverse repo, and trading assets all increased meaningfully, along with sizable growth in repo books, pointing to a generalized expansion in balance-sheet and intermediation capacity given the SLR relief. Securities led the expansion in assets, rising $470bn q/q, a sharp acceleration relative to recent quarters and reversing the net reductions in the prior quarter; by comparison, total securities expansion over 2025 amounted to about $550bn.

Quarter-over-quarter

On the asset side, securities and loan growth accounted for roughly half of the expansion, while reverse repo and trading assets also rose meaningfully, by about $200-300bn each (Figure 2), consistent with a broader expansion in market intermediation capacity alongside credit extension.

Securities rose $470bn q/q, marking a sharp acceleration relative to recent quarters (Figure 11). The GSIBs accounted for more than 80% of the rise in securities, with the top four banks leading the increase at $221bn q/q, followed by other GSIBs at $163bn and small banks at $57bn. Securities holdings at medium banks were broadly flat, while foreign banks added $28bn. Across portfolios, trading books accounted for the largest share of the overall increase at $319bn q/q, and almost entirely at the GSIBs, while available-for-sale (AFS) portfolios rose $163bn and held-to-maturity (HTM) declined $13bn, extending the ongoing rotation away from HTM toward more flexible balance-sheet positioning.

- Within products, Treasuries accounted for over one-third of total securities growth, rising $172bn q/q (Figure 13). The increase was concentrated in trading books ($98bn) and AFS ($71bn), with HTM essentially flat at $4bn. The top four banks alone added $94bn in Treasuries, largely in trading books, while other GSIBs added $72bn, split between AFS and trading.

- Beyond USTs, agency pass-throughs increased $46bn q/q, driven primarily by small banks, in their AFS portfolios (+$25bn) (Figure 14), and with a preference towards Ginnies (Figure 15). Agency CMOs rose $28bn, concentrated in AFS portfolios at the top four, medium, and small banks ($5-7bn each). Agency debt and non-agency MBS growth remained modest at $4-6bn, occurring almost entirely in the top four banks' trading books (Figure 18).

- Foreign debt (in AFS and HTM portfolios) rose $10bn, split between the top four and other GSIBs' AFS portfolios (Figure 19). "Other securities"—primarily state and political subdivision securities, SFS, CMBS, ABS, and other debt—increased $204bn, driven largely by other debt in GSIBs' trading books (Figure 21).

Loan growth totaled $370bn q/q and was led by small banks (+$186bn), followed by the top four banks (+$82bn) and other GSIBs (+$50bn). While real estate loans accounted for roughly half of small banks' lending growth, loan growth at other bank categories was concentrated in "other loans," which include those to non-depository financial institutions, consistent with continued expansion in private credit. By contrast, direct consumer lending continued to decline, falling $122bn overall, led by the top four banks, while C&I loans rose modestly by $75bn, again led by small banks.

In addition, cash assets rose $106bn, primarily at the other GSIBs, while fed funds sold and reverse repos increased $296bn, largely at the top four banks. Trading assets rose $225bn, mostly at the GSIBs and largely in equity securities.

On the liability side, balance-sheet expansion was funded largely through deposits, which rose $604bn q/q, led by a $216bn increase at the small banks, followed by the top four banks (+ $196bn) and other GSIBs ($+176bn) (Figure 2). For the top four banks, repos also funded a significant share of the expansion. Repos rose $410bn overall, including $306bn at the top four banks, while other borrowing and trading liabilities rose $194bn each and other liabilities rose $222bn, consistent with the increase in trading assets and broader intermediation activity.

Aggregate net interest margins declined across bank categories q/q, with the largest decline at the top four banks, where NIMs also slid on a y/y basis (Figure 9). Compared with the same quarter a year ago, NIMs rose the most at medium and small banks, followed by other GSIBs and foreign banks, while NIMS at the top four declined relative to Q1 25.

Year-over-year

Growth in total bank assets reached $2.8trn y/y, driven primarily by loans and leases as well as securities. The top four banks accounted for the largest share of balance-sheet growth (+$1.15trn), followed by other GSIBs (+$715bn), small banks (+$517bn), medium banks (+ $315bn), and foreign banks (+$90bn) (Figure 3).

Loan growth accounted for nearly half of total balance-sheet expansion, rising $1.28trn y/y, and was broad-based across bank groups. Loan books expanded $445bn at the top four banks and $387bn at small banks, with additional growth at medium banks (+$265bn) and other GSIBs (+$170bn). As in the quarterly profile, loan growth outside small banks remained concentrated in "other loans," while small banks increased real estate lending by roughly $200bn and medium banks' consumer lending grew by about $100bn; both segments experienced subdued growth among other bank categories.

Aggregate securities holdings increased $749bn y/y, driven primarily by AFS (+$382bn) and trading portfolios (+$488bn), offset by a $121bn decline in HTM (Figure 12). The top four banks accounted for $454bn of the securities increase, followed by other GSIBs (+$174bn) and small banks (+$71bn), while medium banks were modestly lower and foreign banks added $60bn. Across products, Treasuries accounted for the largest share of securities growth, rising $418bn y/y, with gains concentrated at the top four banks and other GSIBs and split between trading and AFS portfolios. Agency pass-throughs rose $41bn, with increases at small banks' AFS portfolios and the top four banks' trading books offset by declines in HTM exposure at the top four banks. Other securities rose $214bn, driven largely by GSIBs' trading books, while agency debt and non-agency MBS increased modestly.

On the liability side, overall liabilities grew by $2.62trn y/y, with about half coming from deposits, led by the top four banks and the small banks, which recorded deposit growth of $469bn and $398bn, respectively. Repo books expanded by about $354bn, almost entirely at the top four banks. Apart from these, other borrowing increased by about $365bn, and trading and other liabilities rose $246bn and $355bn, respectively, while other borrowing rose $365bn, largely at the GSIBs.

Barclays Capital Inc. and/or one of its affiliates does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that Barclays may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Barclays Capital Inc. and/or one of its affiliates regularly trades, generally deals as principal and generally provides liquidity (as market maker or otherwise) in the debt securities that are the subject of this research report (and related derivatives thereof). Barclays trading desks may have either a long and / or short position in such securities, other financial instruments and / or derivatives, which may pose a conflict with the interests of investing customers. Where permitted and subject to appropriate information barrier restrictions, Barclays fixed income research analysts regularly interact with its trading desk personnel regarding current market conditions and prices. Barclays fixed income research analysts receive compensation based on various factors including, but not limited to, the quality of their work, the overall performance of the firm (including the profitability of the Investment Banking Department), the profitability and revenues of the Markets business and the potential interest of the firm's investing clients in research with respect to the asset class covered by the analyst. To the extent that any historical pricing information was obtained from Barclays trading desks, the firm makes no representation that it is accurate or complete. All levels, prices and spreads are historical and do not necessarily represent current market levels, prices or spreads, some or all of which may have changed since the publication of this document. Barclays Research Department produces various types of research including, but not limited to, fundamental analysis, equity-linked analysis, quantitative analysis, and trade ideas. Recommendations and trade ideas contained in one type of Barclays Research may differ from those contained in other types of Barclays Research, whether as a result of differing time horizons, methodologies, or otherwise.

This material, where distributed to persons in Australia, is produced or provided by Barclays Bank PLC.

This communication is directed at persons who are a "Wholesale Client" as defined by the Australian Corporations Act 2001.

Please note that the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) has provided certain exemptions to Barclays Bank PLC (BBPLC) under paragraph 911A(2)(l) of the Corporations Act 2001 from the requirement to hold an Australian financial services licence (AFSL) in respect of financial services provided to Australian Wholesale Clients, on the basis that BBPLC is authorised by the Prudential Regulation Authority of the United Kingdom (PRA) and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) of the United Kingdom and the PRA under United Kingdom laws. The United Kingdom has laws which differ from Australian laws. To the extent that this communication involves the provision of financial services by BBPLC to Australian Wholesale Clients, BBPLC relies on the relevant exemption from the requirement to hold an AFSL. Accordingly, BBPLC does not hold an AFSL.

This communication may be distributed to you by either: (i) Barclays Bank PLC directly, (ii) Barrenjoey Markets Pty Limited (ACN 636 976 059, "Barrenjoey"), the holder of Australian Financial Services Licence (AFSL) 521800, a non-affiliated third party distributor, where clearly identified to you by Barrenjoey. Barrenjoey is not an agent of Barclays Bank PLC or (iii) such other non-affiliated third-party distributor(s) as may be clearly identified to you. Such non-affiliated third-party distributor(s) are not agents of Barclays Bank PLC.

This material, where distributed in New Zealand, is produced or provided by Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays Bank PLC is not registered, filed with or approved by any New Zealand regulatory authority. This material is not provided under or in accordance with the Financial Markets Conduct Act of 2013 ("FMCA"), and is not a disclosure document or "financial advice" under the FMCA. This material is distributed to you by either: (i) Barclays Bank PLC directly or (ii) Barrenjoey Markets Pty Limited ("Barrenjoey"), a non-affiliated third party distributor, where clearly identified to you by Barrenjoey. Barrenjoey is not an agent of Barclays Bank PLC. This material may only be distributed to "wholesale investors" that meet the "investment business", "investment activity", "large", or "government agency" criteria specified in Schedule 1 of the FMCA.

Middle East: Nothing herein should be considered investment advice as defined in the Israeli Regulation of Investment Advisory, Investment Marketing and Portfolio Management Law, 1995 (“Advisory Law”). This document is being made to eligible clients (as defined under the Advisory Law) only. Barclays Israeli branch previously held an investment marketing license with the Israel Securities Authority but it cancelled such license on 30/11/2014 as it solely provides its services to eligible clients pursuant to available exemptions under the Advisory Law, therefore a license with the Israel Securities Authority is not required. Accordingly, Barclays does not maintain an insurance coverage pursuant to the Advisory Law.

Sustainable Investing Related Research: There is currently no globally accepted framework or definition (legal, regulatory or otherwise) of, nor market consensus as to what constitutes a ‘sustainable’, ‘ESG’, ‘green’, ‘climate-friendly’ or an equivalent company, investment, strategy or consideration or what precise attributes are required to be eligible to be categorised by such terms. This means there are different ways to evaluate a company or an investment and so different values may be placed on certain sustainability credentials as well as adverse ESG-related impacts of companies and ESG controversies. The evolving nature of sustainable investing considerations, models and methodologies means it can be challenging to definitively and universally classify a company or investment under a sustainable investing label and there may be areas where such companies and investments could improve or where adverse ESG-related impacts or ESG controversies exist. The evolving nature of sustainable finance related regulations and the development of jurisdiction-specific regulatory criteria also means that there is likely to be a degree of divergence as to the interpretation of such terms in the market. We expect industry guidance, market practice, and regulations in this field to continue to evolve.

Any information, data, image, or other content including from a third party source contained, referred to herein or used for whatsoever purpose by Barclays or a third party (“Information”), in relation to any actual or potential ‘ESG’, ‘sustainable' or equivalent objective, issue, factor or consideration is not intended to be relied upon for ESG or sustainability classification, regulatory regime or industry initiative purposes (“ESG Regimes”), unless otherwise stated. Nothing in these materials, including any images included therein, is intended to convey, suggest or indicate that Barclays considers or represents any product, service, person or body mentioned in these materials as meeting or qualifying for any ESG or sustainability classification, label or similar standards that may exist under ESG Regimes. Barclays has not conducted any assessment of compliance with ESG Regimes. Parties are reminded to make their own assessments for these purposes.
